RAVEN REVIEW

VOLUME 3, ISSUE 8

Principal's Corner

Parents,

I wanted to use the front page of this week's Raven Review to bring awareness to our families about the current digital media threats that our schools, families, and children are facing.

You may have recently heard about the 'MOMO Challenge'. According to National Online Safety, "Momo is a sinister 'challenge' that has been around for some time. It has recently resurfaced and once again came to the attention of our schools and children across the country. Momo has been linked to apps such as Facebook, WhatsApp, YouTube, and YouTube Kids. The scary doll-like figure reportedly sends graphic violent images, and asks the users to partake in dangerous challenges."

With the increase of social media and technology in our students' lives, I encourage all families to look at National Online Safety's article "Online Safety Guides for Parents and Carers". This guide walks parents through the Momo Challenge, apps they should steer away from, and it provides parent guides to popular apps so you know what your child is really doing online.

With sincere regard,

Mr. Haake
